

JAPANESE REPORTED TO HAVE REPULSED PORT ARTHUR FLEET IN BIG FIGHT FOLLOWING DASH FOR LIBERTY

WOMEN KILLED BY A CAR AT FAIR'S PORTAL

Sisters-in-Law from Louisiana Plantation Meet Death in View of Husband and Brother While on Their Way to Hotel.

HOSPITAL WITHIN GROUNDS
WOULDN'T SEND AMBULANCE

While One Woman Was Dying Beside Body of the Other, Relatives Had Agonizing Wait for Conveyance From City Dispensary.

Mrs. Victoria Moore and her sister-in-law, Miss Cora Moore, came from their plantation home in Louisiana to witness the glories of the World's Fair, and 30 minutes after their arrival in the city met death within sight of the towering domes and glistening spires of the Exposition.

It was a few minutes after 6 o'clock Wednesday afternoon when James Moore, a prosperous planter of Bell's Store, La., accompanied by his wife, Mrs. Victoria Moore, his sister, Miss Cora Moore, and Miss Nana Brannon, reached Union Station.

There they were met by C. A. Smith, a runner, who induced them to go to the Cottage Grove Hotel, one-fourth of a mile east of West End Heights, west of the Christian Endeavor Hotel and south of the Fair.

Together with Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Henry of Memphis, Tenn., Mrs. Carney and one other prospective guest, they boarded a Market street car and started for the hotel. The run was made in 20 minutes. When they reached the hotel, which is merely a platform built for the accommodation of the hotel in this vicinity, they were met by four west-bound cars were running close together. Mr. Moore and his party were in the second of these cars. When they reached the hotel, they were met by the other two cars to pass.

FOLLOWED OTHERS ACROSS.
In order to do this the two persons were compelled to stand in a small space, because the World's Fair runs close against the street car tracks.

As soon as the cars had passed Mr. Moore and his party started to cross the tracks to reach the hotel. They were met by the other two cars to pass.

At the instant they stepped on the track an east-bound Market street car, traveling at high speed, struck them both. They hardly had time to think, much less to move. Both women were hurled into the air and thrown down an embankment several feet high, striking the earth almost by side.

Miss Moore died almost instantly. While Mrs. Brown, a nurse employed at the World's Fair Emergency Hospital, was on a car, she hastened to the scene and did all she could to relieve the sufferings of the young woman, both of whose arms were broken, but to no avail.

Cora were brought from the Grand View Hotel, a block away. The body of Mrs. Moore was placed on one and Miss Moore was carried on the other. She became unconscious as she was being carried.

FAIR AMBULANCE DENIED.
An ambulance could not be secured from the World's Fair Emergency Hospital, as that service is within the Fair only, and it was an hour before the ambulance summoned from the City Dispensary arrived.

In the meantime Mr. Moore and Miss Brannon and an anxious party of waiters were waiting with strained eyes for the sight of an ambulance hurrying along the dusty road by the side of the tracks.

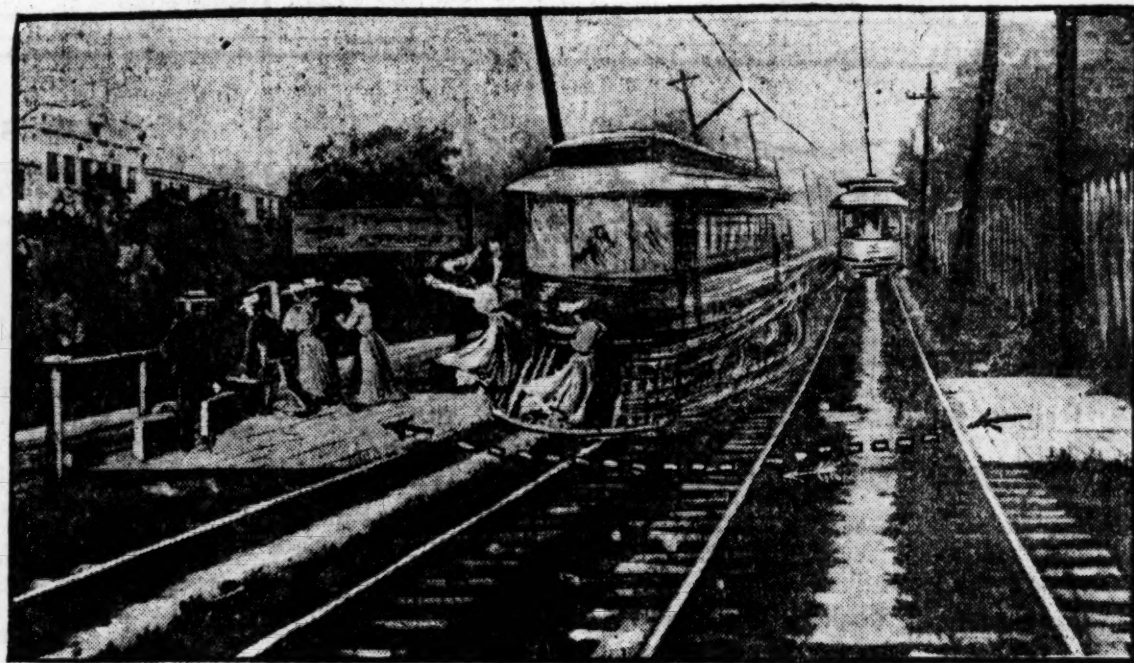

At last it came, and Miss Moore was taken to the City Hospital in all haste, but died a few moments after reaching there. The body of Mrs. Moore was carried in the same conveyance, and Mr. Moore and Miss Brannon accompanied it on the sad journey.

They remained down town, and at noon Thursday had not inquired concerning their baggage, which was taken to the Grand View Hotel at Mr. Moore's request.

Manager Ragsdale telegraphed to the station agent at Slusher, La., near where Mr. Moore resides, and he telephoned to Bell's Store giving the news of the double fatality. A reply was received from W. B. Morris, a friend of the party, that the bodies of the two women were being taken to the City Dispensary.

At 8 P. M. Hamilton, of the east bound car, were arrested and taken to the World's Fair police station, but after being questioned were released.

Scene of Shocking Street Car Accident on Market Street Line Near the World's Fair

This picture drawn on a photograph of the scene shows how two women of a party, which had just left a car, were killed by another car going in the opposite direction. The photograph gives only an imperfect idea of the heavy grade down which the car is said to have come at great speed.

TEDDY GREAT MAN, THINKS ANTONIO

Explains His Conviction by Pointing to Proportions of President's Neck.

The eight Moros and Igorrotes who went from St. Louis last week to visit the President at Washington returned this morning. Like a congressman who has once tasted life at the national capital they want to go back right away.

Antonio, chief of the Bontoe Igorrotes, declared when he got back to the World's Fair that President Roosevelt is a big man.

Asked how he knew this, Antonio answered that he knew the President was a big man because he has a big neck and a big stomach.

This unique means of dividing the great and the small in public life created high merriment among the Americans who crowded around the chief, to be told of the trip.

Antonio further said that the President had declared upon his return that he and not Antonio is the author of the famous declaration:

"The Datto is proud of this declaration, and he can lick the man who attempts to steal his thunder."

READY TO MARRY, BUT WHOM
Miss Eager Sends Two Suitors Racing for Marriage License, Which Recorder Refuses.

Suited to the Post-Dispatch.
POITTSVILLE, Pa., Aug. 11.—Miss Alexander Eager, unable to choose from a score of suitors, told two of them, Dominick Goddows and Anthony Mulcar, that she would marry the one who first secured a marriage license.

The two rivals started on a run, both reaching Register Herb simultaneously. The recorder refused to issue a license to either. The young men were backed by Justice Shoemaker in demands for a license, and the recorder is in a dilemma.

The young woman has told them to fight it out.

ANOTHER WORE HIS JUNE-BUG PIN

George J. Salem's Romance Culminated on the Pike in an Exciting Mix-Up.

Bitter memories were aroused in the mind of George J. Salem, a student at the Missouri State University at Columbia, as he was strolling along the east end of the Pike, Wednesday night.

Once upon a time young Salem had a sweetheart, to whom, as a small but significant token of his affection, he presented a June-bug pin. By and by there came a few lines requesting that she return said pin.

The young lady replied that such a performance would be impossible, since she had lost said pin, heretofore mentioned. But was and was As Mr. Salem was walking along the Pike he saw his former love approaching with a young man. This young man wore a cravat, and in that cravat was pinned a June-bug pin.

The young man fell to and was punning each other in the sandest manner imaginable when a Jefferson Guard rushed up and snatched them.

Young Mr. Salem was arrested and taken to the World's Fair police station. His rival declined to prosecute him, and Mr. Salem was released. He kept the pin.

AFTER THE AUTO RECORD
Chicagoans Start Saturday in Attempt to Lower Time Between St. Louis and Chicago.

George A. and H. W. Crane of Chicago are to go after the Chicago-St. Louis automobile record under official auspices. Saturday morning at 4 o'clock they will start for Chicago, accompanied by W. Spangier, secretary of the Chicago Automobile Club, and J. Mahan, secretary of the New Orleans Club, who will officially time the trip.

The start will be made from the Mississippi Valley Trust Co. store, 223 Olive street, and the route will be the same as followed by the automobile tourists from Chicago to St. Louis.

The best time heretofore made, but unofficially recorded, has been about twenty hours.

Deported Miner Thought Insane.
John Wilson, aged 31, and who claims to be a deported miner from Cripple Creek, Colo., is held in the detention ward of the City Hospital pending an investigation as to his sanity. He was arrested Wednesday evening at a saloon at Sixth and Elm streets.

Wilson says that his home is in Owensboro, Ky.

FUGITIVE SEEKS TO END LIFE OF EXILE

Slayer of East St. Louis Policeman Cuts His Throat in Lincoln, Neb.

ELUDED POLICE 15 MONTHS

Remorse Drove Him to Unsuccessful Attempt, Which Was Followed by Confession.

Remorse for killing Patrolman Thomas Reedy near the end of Eads bridge in East St. Louis, May 5, 1903, caused James Golden, a fugitive from justice, to attempt suicide by slashing himself with a knife in Lincoln, Neb., Thursday.

Golden, according to dispatches from Lincoln, cut himself seriously, but not fatally. After his arrest he confessed to killing Patrolman Reedy and said he was tired of dodging the police and wanted to die.

Liberal rewards were offered for the arrest of Golden since the shooting, but he eluded capture. A message announcing his arrest was received by the East St. Louis police Thursday, and an officer will be sent to Lincoln to bring him back.

The killing of Patrolman Reedy occurred during a quarrel between Reedy and John Golden, a brother of James. The patrolman is said to have struck John Golden with his club. Then, according to witnesses, James Golden ran into the saloon, went behind the bar, secured a revolver and, coming out, fired at Reedy twice. At the second shot Reedy fell, dying almost instantly. Both the Goldenes escaped.

Another account of the shooting says that Reedy arrested both Golden inside the saloon, telephoned for a patrol wagon and had stepped outside with the men when both attacked him. James Golden fired but one shot, according to this version, the bullet striking Reedy in the stomach and causing instant death.

The day of the killing was Reedy's last day on the East St. Louis police force after many years' service. The Cook administration having given him his last to a newly appointed patrolman. He left a widow and seven children. The youngest was 2 days old, living at 820 Trendley avenue, East St. Louis.

RUSSIAN WANTED TO WED NEGRESS
Denied a License in East St. Louis and Belleville They Threatened to Go to Court.

Anton Sysoiente, a Russian, short and light, aged 35 years, is in jail in East St. Louis for the reason, indirectly, that he insists on marrying Charlotte Emvin, a negress, tall and exceedingly black, aged 40.

Sysoiente resides in St. Louis County and is employed by a day laborer near Delmar Garden. He has been there several years. The woman also belongs in Missouri.

As told in late editions of Wednesday's Post-Dispatch, Sysoiente and the woman, accompanied by George Washington Bascome, a St. Louis negro lawyer, and W. T. Scott, late nominee for the presidency on the Liberty (negro) ticket, went to East St. Louis to secure a marriage license.

Notwithstanding the fact that there is no law in Illinois to prevent the marriage of a white and a colored person, License Clerk George Caughlan denied the couple a permit to wed. They at once went to Belleville, where they met with a similar rebuff at the hands of County Clerk Geo. K. Thomas.

Disappointed and chagrined, they returned to St. Louis Thursday morning with Bascome, they again crossed the bridge and called on Justice J. M. Beach to see what could be done in the way of forcing the authorities to grant them a marriage license. After threatening to mandamus the county clerk, they set out again for St. Louis.

On Eads bridge Patrolmen Healey and McEllicott saw the white man and the tall negress walking together and questioned them. They resented this interference with their affairs and resisted when the patrolmen attempted to place them under arrest.

Thus it came about that Anton Sysoiente is behind the bars, as aforesaid, and that Charlotte Emvin is saturating the soil of Illinois with briny tears.

THE WEATHER INDICATIONS.
St. Louis and vicinity—Fair and warmer Thursday night and Friday.

Missouri—Generally fair Thursday night and Friday; warmer in north portion Thursday night; southeast to south winds.

Illinois and Indiana—Generally fair Thursday and Friday; slowly rising temperature; variable winds, becoming southerly.

Iowa—Partly cloudy Thursday night and fair, with possibly showers in north portion; warmer Thursday night; cooler in west portion Friday; southerly winds.

Admiral Togo's Ships, Supposed to Be off Guard Suddenly Seem to Rise Out of the Sea and Pounce Upon the Foe,

NO OFFICIAL DISPATCHES ON RESULT RECEIVED

One Japanese Cruiser Rumored Lost and Two Russian Battleships Crippled—St. Petersburg Admits Attempt at Escape Was Made—Fall of the City Is Near.

LONDON, Aug. 11.—A dispatch to a news agency from Tokio announces definitely that Admiral Togo has frustrated the attempt of the Port Arthur squadron to escape and adds that the Port Arthur forts participated with the warships in the engagement, indicating, if true, that the fighting occurred close to the fort.

CHEFOO, Aug. 11.—8 p. m.—There is no longer any doubt that the greatest naval battle of the war has just been fought off Port Arthur.

Practically the entire battleship and cruiser squadron at Port Arthur, not wholly disabled, made a desperate effort Wednesday morning to dash through the Japanese lines and race to Vladivostok to join the fleet there.

When the dash began the Japanese were supposed to be off guard, but the Russian fleet was hardly outside the outer roadstead when Admiral Togo's fleet seemed to rise out of the sea and pounce upon the foe.

The battle occurred near enough to the shore for the Russian land batteries to take part, and the sea in the fire zone was churned to foam with the hail of shell that fell from the great guns.

All day the battle raged, and, when night came on, Togo brought his torpedo craft into use and they delivered a series of attacks against the enemy's fleet.

The results of the battle are not known, except that one Japanese cruiser, the Kasagi, was sunk, and that two Russian vessels, the Retvizan and the Pobeda, were so badly crippled that they steamed back to the harbor, moving with apparent difficulty.

It is probable that the chase continues. As the speed of the Russian fleet is only that of its slowest unit, the Poltava, which makes only 16 knots an hour, the Japanese ships are at a decided advantage, as the slowest ship of the blockading squadron can travel 18 knots.

It is believed that if the Russian fleet is not already out of action, the chance for its escape is not more than one out of a possible hundred.

One Russian torpedo boat, the Ryeshiteli, escaped to this port, and three Japanese torpedo boat destroyers are now outside the harbor watching for it.

Though the Ryeshiteli is still flying the Russian flag, she has been dismantled, the breeches of her guns being removed.

It is reported that 16 Russian warships have been seen near this port. The Russian ships before leaving Port Arthur took on board heavy stores, machinery and materials for ship repairing. The departure order was issued by Admiral Skrydloff.

The most significant feature of it is that it amounts to a practical assurance from the Russians that Port Arthur's fall is near. In fact, there are reasons to believe that the final attack is now on and that it was the fire from the Japanese land batteries that drove the Russian fleet out of the harbor.

In the Russian fleet that made the sortie were the battleships Retvizan, Poltava, Peresviet, Sevastopol, Carevitch and Pobeda and the cruisers Bayan, Pallada, Diana and Askold, with several gunboats. In the Vladivostok fleet they hope to join are the cruisers Gromobol, Rossia, Rurik and Bogatyr.

The Japanese fleet consists of the battleships Mikasa, Asahi, Fuji and Shikishima; the cruisers Iwate, Idzumo, Yakumo, Tokiwa, Kasagi, Kasuga, Nishin and Nasin, besides 40 torpedo boats.

The refugees from Port Arthur state that during the last five days Japanese shells from Wolfs Hill have been dropping into the town, causing great damage. Several civilians have been hurt. One shell hit an oil storehouse under Golden Hill. Five hundred sailors vainly attempted to extinguish the fire it caused.

A refugee from Port Arthur who has just arrived at Liao Yang says the defenders of the fortress remain all day at their posts in spite of the dreadful heat, the women heroically carrying water to the parched soldiers, although not a single space within the perimeter of the fortress is free from bullets and bursting shells. Sometimes the whole fortress seemed enveloped in smoke from the countless shell explosions.

There was a memorable sight from the Wolf Hills when the Japanese attacked the Russian positions there July 25. Five Japanese divisions moved across the plain to the assault under cover of their guns. The onset was so desperate that it almost verged on frenzy. It was said at Port Arthur that Field Marshal Oyama commanded the Japanese forces in person and several princes of the blood and veteran generals led on the attacking forces, giving examples of courage and resources previously unequalled.

The Japanese artillery received a fresh supply of ammunition the previous evening and never before was there such a terrific hail of projectiles, but the efforts of the Japanese were unavailing against the determined stand of the Russians, who proved themselves worthy of the sons of the defenders of Sebastopol, and the attack was repulsed with enormous losses. The refugees give the Russian losses at 1200 and those of the Japanese at 15,000.

After the battle Gen. Stoenel ordered out every available surgeon to dress the Japanese wounded, but the Russians were unable to bring them into the fortress, where the problem of feeding the non-combatants is so serious. Consequently, the Japanese wounded were left on the field of battle to be taken off by their own people.

Wednesday, it is said to have been chosen for the escape of the Russian warships at Port Arthur, because the Japanese fleet was then exhausted by the constant bombardment of the two previous nights.

Takushan mountain, near Port Arthur, which was taken by the Japanese Monday night, was recaptured by the Russians the next day.

TOGO HAS NOT YET MADE REPORT

TOKIO, Aug. 11.—Evidently driven to sea by the fire of the Japanese land batteries, the Russian fleet emerged from Port Arthur yesterday morning.

Admiral Togo immediately closed in and opened a severe engagement which lasted until nightfall. Afterwards the Japanese destroyers and torpedo flotillas delivered a series of attacks. The Japanese fleet withdrew during the night.

A guardship stationed off the harbor reported that she saw at dawn today the battleships Retvizan and Pobeda, steaming toward the harbor of Port Arthur.

Admiral Togo has not yet reported the results of yesterday's engagement. It is

ALEXIEFF TELLS OF THE FLEET'S DASH

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 11.—6:30 p. m.—The admiral has just received from Alexieff a brief dispatch officially announcing the departure of the Port Arthur squadron. It does not give details and doubtless the news communicated to the admiral by the captain of the torpedo boat destroyer Ryshchinski from Chefoo.

CAPTAIN OF AN ESCAPED

TORPEDO BOAT SAID BIG SHIPS HAVE LEFT HARBOR

CHEFOO, Aug. 11.—Captain Rostchavski, of the Russian torpedo destroyer Ryshchinski, which emerged from Port Arthur with the fleet Wednesday morning and which arrived here early this morning, states that his engines broke down when he was midway between Chefoo and Port Arthur. He proceeded at a speed of 12 knots to this port. He says he saw no Japanese vessels.

He confirms the previous statements that the large Russian warships had left Port Arthur, but refused to say directly that the fleet had gone on an extended cruise, but left the inference in the course of a long interview that the warships expect to join the Vladivostok squadron, which he said, had been recruited by the purchase of ships from the Argentinian Republic. Captain Rostchavski said further that the Russian torpedo boats, gunboats and small craft generally remained at Port Arthur. Some went out to perform their usual duties in the bay, but they did not follow the big ships.

Captain Rostchavski stated that the recent firing heard at Chefoo, evidently came from Port Arthur, where the Japanese continue to attack daily with scarcely less energy than they manifested during the severe three days' fighting the latter part of July.

The Japanese line, he said, now extends from the north shore of Louis Bay to a point about seven miles east of Port Arthur. The Japanese, he alleged, were waiting for the Russian fleet. Their positions are frequently lost, retaken, then lost and retaken again.

VLADIVOSTOK SQUADRON PREPARES FOR COMING OF THE PORT ARTHUR FLEET.

VLADIVOSTOK, Aug. 11.—Preparations are being completed here for the reception and protection of the Port Arthur squadron. The departure of the squadron from Port Arthur is generally interpreted to indicate that the siege of the fortress is entering on its final stage, as the Japanese have repeatedly been announced for the squadron to leave as soon as the situation at Port Arthur became desperate.

The preservation of the squadron is considered to be vital to Russia's future plans, and while it is acknowledged that its departure will greatly weaken the defensive power of the garrison, without the capture of the squadron, the fall of the fortress would be robbed of much of its strategic importance. The smaller ships probably were left behind on account of their slow speed and inadequate fighting power while the torpedo boat destroyers would constitute a constant menace to the Japanese fleet outside.

Definite news of the result of the reported battle outside Port Arthur is awaited with feverish anxiety. Even if the squadron succeeded in getting through the Japanese ships, it is realized that it runs a desperate risk in trying to reach Vladivostok, as Admiral Togo's fleet is larger, of superior strength and faster than the Russian squadron. Besides, the Straits of Korea are understood to be mined and the squadron probably will be compelled to take the longer route around Japan.

It is believed that the purpose of the Russian torpedo boat destroyer Ryshchinski in going to Chefoo was to notify Admiral Skrydloff of the sortie of the Port Arthur squadron in order that he may dispatch the Vladivostok squadron to meet the squadron from Port Arthur.

Advice from Admiral Avellan indicates that it will be necessary to send the armored cruiser Bavan and the protected cruisers Pallada, Diana and Askold.

Satisfaction is expressed at this indication that the Bavan, which was slightly damaged, has been successfully repaired. The protected cruiser Novik was probably left at Port Arthur. The Port Arthur squadron is under the command of Rear-Admiral Witthoff. The report that Vice-Admiral Besobrasoff had taken over the command of that squadron is untrue. The latter is now ill at Vladivostok.

As the speed of a squadron is not faster than that of the slowest unit, which in this case is the Poltava, which could not at her best make over 18 knots, that speed is the estimated rate of steaming of the Port Arthur squadron, whereas the Japanese battleships have 18 knots speed.

Both squadrons, however, have probably greatly deteriorated in speed.

RUSSIAN FEAR OF BEING CUT OFF IS INCREASING

MUKDEN, Aug. 11.—There is much speculation as to whether the Japanese intend to attempt to turn Kuroopatsin's flank between here and Liao Yang or north of Mukden.

The Russians appear well satisfied with the situation. Officers and men anticipate a big battle around Liao

Yang, but the fear is expressed that the Japanese, instead of joining issue there, will seek to turn the Russian position above Mukden and cut the railroad.

The Japanese were active yesterday on the eastern flank of the Russian army. They retired slightly toward the south and the Russians occupied their positions.

It is evident that the Japanese do not intend attempting to carry Liao Yang by frontal attack, but hope for success by flanking, as at Taicheng and Haicheng.

A large Japanese force is reported to be moving along the coast above Yinkow.

JAPANESE BRIDGING ONE RIVER AT EIGHT POINTS

LIAO YANG, Aug. 11.—The Japanese are very active at Bendziko, 27 miles east of the Taitse river. They are bridging the river at eight points to facilitate their advance.

It is reported that the Japanese have 20,000 men and 20 guns idle at Haicheng awaiting the turning movement which they are attempting around Liao Yang. The Haicheng force will be ready to advance if the flanks succeed in

Gen. Lubavin made a reconnaissance to the eastward in the valley of the Taitse river on the night of Aug. 6, striking the Japanese at Iyanchuan. The night was dark and foggy. Three companies of Cosacks rushed the Japanese outposts in order to develop the strength of their re-severe fight and drove back the Japanese advance, but got away before reinforcements had time to come up.

RUSSIANS CONCENTRATING MEN FOR MUKDEN'S DEFENSE.

Special Cable to the New York World and the Post-Dispatch.

(Copyright, 1904, by the Press Publishing Co.) LONDON, Aug. 11.—"There is an enormous Russian garrison at Mukden," the Sinimining correspondent of the Daily Mail reports, "and the troops in this district have been reinforced at a more rapid rate than at the commencement of the war."

There are no Japanese north of the city. A force of some strength lies twenty-five miles to the south and another Japanese army five miles east of Liao-Yang.

"I learn from a reliable source that the main Russian army has fallen back on Chitau."

The Mail's correspondent at Kuptatse telegraphs under Monday's date:

"On the night of August 6, the sound of a tremendous explosion was heard at Shangkaiwan. The concussion was so great that windows were shattered and houses rocked."

It is believed that the explosion was connected with tunneling operations by the Japanese. The Russians will be ready to advance if the flanks succeed in

The Port Arthur paper Novy Krai, in its issue of August 6 mentions that the Russians are taking forty-eight hours duty in the trenches. The men are weary and fatigued, but march to town playing and singing their national songs. The inhabitants line the route, presenting the troops with comforts.

"The supply of meat has ceased and residents are feeling in the harbor."

TORONTO SECURES TYPO CONVENTION

Canadian City Won Honor of Entertaining Printers by Large Majority.

The International Typographical Union, now in session at the World's Fair, will hold its next annual convention in Toronto, Canada.

This decision was reached at noon Thursday, when the contest between Toronto and Columbus, O., was closed.

The vote on the first ballot was: Toronto, 157; Columbus, 61.

Then they made it unanimous.

Notwithstanding the fact that Wednesday was Printers' Day at the Fair, and that everybody had had a large time and was tired, the delegates were more than usually prompt Thursday morning in arriving at Convention Hall, and the attendance was large.

The delegates from Columbus and Toronto were on hand early, electing officers to secure the next convention.

An announcement read by President

Lynch stating where union label cigars could be purchased at the World's Fair was greeted with cheers.

Delegate Goetsinger of St. Paul, Minn., asked for permission to introduce an amendment to the by-laws requiring each local president to report in writing to the National president how many days during the year the organizer spent in his district.

This request, which threatened to reopen a discussion which has been the cause of considerable acerbity heretofore, aroused a sharp discussion and was firmly denied.

There was not a little laughter among the nice, clean assemblage of printersmen when President Lynch announced that a firm, manufacturing a soap of special value to type handlers, would distribute samples to the convention. Each delegate pocketed his piece of soap solemnly and then looked important while a poem by George E. Bowen, portraying the dignity and worth of the man behind the type-stick was being read.

The committee on laws reported an amendment forbidding the use of the union label in one-man shops where the proprietor is the only workman, save in exceptional cases of misfortune.

This stirred up the delegates, and it was finally decided to leave this matter to the local unions, as at present.

A proposed amendment prohibiting foremen from participating in annual conventions, either as delegates or alternates, aroused bitter and eloquent discussion.

Delegate Anderson of Macon, Ga., him self a foreman and chairman of the committee on laws. Was particularly earnest and impressive in his opposition to it.

Speeches against it were made by President Lynch, Delegate Draper of Ottawa, Canada, and others, and the amendment was unanimously voted down.

UNION WOMEN REFUSE TO EAT MEAT DURING STRIKE

The Women's Auxiliary of the International Typographical Union met at the World's Fair this morning at 9 o'clock for the transaction of business. The reports of several committees, which were appointed yesterday, were received.

The Women's Auxiliary aids the unions in every way possible, the members refusing to buy anything which does not bear the union label. At the present time, the members say, they are not eating meat, and will not eat any so long as non-union men are employed at the packing houses.

Their sympathies are with all unions, and not alone with the organization with which they are affiliated.

His Face Slipped. Miss Jackson (at the cakewalk): Look back, nigger, don't you laugh at me; don't laugh at me! Miss Johnson: I ain't laughing; my face jes' slipped.

Bad Form. From the Washington Star: "It is very bad form for a person to come from a regular display of his wares."

"Yes," answered Senator Borah, "and in politics it's worse than that. It's in-tellectu-ally."

CATARRH OF STOMACH THREATENED HER LIFE.*Pe-ru-na Promptly Restored Her to Health and Beauty.

A Heavy, Bloating Feeling of the Stomach—Heartburn, and a Belching Up of Gas, Entirely Done Away With.

MISS SADIE BRUNELL, member of the Benevolent Sewing Circle, 278 Pearl St., Buffalo, N. Y., writes: "I wish to express my appreciation of Peruna. I was a great sufferer from catarrh of the stomach and was treated by several physicians, but with little relief. Finally Peruna was recommended to me by a friend, and soon after beginning to take the medicine I experienced much relief and at the end of five months I was entirely cured. I had suffered with heartburn at times, also sour stomach, and often after eating my stomach felt heavy and I belched up gas. My stomach was bloated and I could not bear tight clothes around my waist. It is over a year since I discontinued taking Peruna for my trouble, and I am able to eat anything I desire without experiencing any inconvenience, and I do not hesitate to say that I am entirely cured."—Miss Sadie Brunell.

The Bane of Her Life Was Stomach Trouble.

Miss Gertrude Pogue, 1407 Central Av., Cincinnati, Ohio, Secretary Social Economics Club, writes:

"Stomach trouble has been the bane of my existence for a good many years. I tried a number of remedies for dyspepsia and indigestion, thinking that was the trouble, but nothing helped me until I took the right medicine for the right trouble. I was suffering with catarrh of the stomach and did not know it. Peruna took hold of the seat of the trouble and soon exterminated it from my system. I have a splendid appetite now, my food does not distress me and I am growing fatter. I have a look of health which I have not had for years."—Miss Gertrude Pogue.

Pe-ru-na Contains No Narcotics.

One reason why Peruna has found permanent use in so many homes is that it contains no narcotic of any kind. Peruna is perfectly harmless. It can be used any length of time without acquiring a drug habit. Peruna does not produce temporary results. It is permanent in its effect.

It has no bad effect upon the system, and gradually eliminates catarrh by removing the cause of catarrh. There are a multitude of homes where Peruna has been used off and on for twenty years. Such a thing could not be possible if Peruna contained any drugs of a narcotic nature. All correspondence is held strictly confidential.

BIG LIFE'S WORK FOR WEE CRIPPLE

Agnes Neal, Aged 12, After Long Journey, Reunited Father and Mother—Then Died.

NEARLY CROSSED CONTINENT

Her Brave Heart Led Her to Success, but Consumption Claimed Her as Its Tribute.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—Agnes Neal is dead. You do not know of Agnes Neal? No matter; she was one of those for whom it is given to accomplish a life work before young life goes out.

Agnes Neal was a Chicago cripple and she was only 12 years old when she died the other day in Seattle. But she had completed her mission. She had traced her wandering father alone across the country. She had found him. She had awakened in him a longing for his family, and then she had made a home and brought mother and father and children together once more in happiness. Then she died.

This was the news which came to the crippled children's school yesterday. Or, more properly, it came to Mrs. Emma S. Haskell, principal of the school, and most of the little lame folk will not know it till the long vacation is ended.

Agnes was a cripple from infancy. Before she could creep about the floor they had put her little body in a brace and when she learned to walk she had to learn on crutches. Agnes could not go to school and she even shrank from playing in the street because the boy and girls were likely to make fun of her lameness. She staid indoors with her mother all day in the little Carpenter street cottage in which the family lived, but her special delight was to play with her father evenings when he came home from his day's toil.

To Agnes a great sorrow, however, the father did not always come home at night, at least before her bed time. She heard her mother say that her father drank and sometimes she herself noticed that he acted queerly. Then came a night when the father did not return at all. Day after day Agnes watched for him, but all in vain. The disappearance of John Neal was reported to the police, but nothing came of it and after a time the family settled down to life along without him. Mrs. Neal took in washing and William, the eldest son, got a job which paid $5 a week.

Calamities Filled

On Lonely Family.

About this time the family met with a new calamity. Little Joey, next in and to Agnes, was killed one day by a cable car. After the funeral expenses had been paid the family was in sore straits than ever. The claim agent of the street car company called on Mrs. Neal and finally paid her $200 for the loss of her boy. In the legal adjustment of the matter it fell out that the share of each of the children in the indemnity was $33.33.

Not long after this a woman connected with the public school system called at the house to see Agnes. The next day the bus of the crippled children's school backed up at the door and Agnes was taken away to begin her education with the other lame boys and girls. This was two years ago. One day Agnes, who had made marvelous progress in her studies, went to Mrs. Haskell and asked that she might have a desk near the window. She informed the principal that she wanted to sit where she might see her father if he should ever go walking past. Her request was granted.

Thereafter, through the days and weeks and months Agnes watched for the father that never came. She knew just what she would do if she ever saw him. She would clatter down the stairs and catch her father before he could get away.

On another day last winter Agnes sought out Mrs. Haskell with a proposition over which she had been pondering a long time. She said that word had come that her father had been seen near the city and she proposed to go in search of him herself, and to pay her way she would take the $33.33 which the street car company had paid her for the death of little Joey. The earnestness of the forlorn little cripple so impressed itself upon her teacher that Mrs. Haskell finally wrote to the chief of police in Seattle.

Tagged as She

Starts on Journey.

Within two weeks Agnes was bound for Seattle. To her flock was planned a bag containing her to the chief of police, and in her purse was a pass on the railroad and the $33.33. Agnes and the chief of police got on famously, according to the letters the cripple wrote back to Mrs. Haskell. She became the guest of the city in the big hospital and she and the chief lost no time in starting the search for her father. In this they collaborated with rare congeniality. The chief advertised for John Neal in the newspapers and one day he took Agnes for a search of a new part of town.

In the course of a week a man appeared at the hospital who said his name was John Neal. He had been in the advertisement. The meeting between the father and his crippled daughter was turned into a celebration by the guest of the city. The father, it turned out, had a good position, and did not want to return to Chicago, but the mere sight of Agnes made him want his family back. A letter was soon speeding to Mrs. Haskell, and two weeks from that date the mother and four children at home were on their way to Seattle with all their possessions. Agnes and her father had a cottage ready for them when they arrived.

Agnes went to school again in Seattle, but when summer came on again it was noticed that she was not looking as well as usual. She had a cough, and one day fainted on her way to the school. When it came vacation time she had laid aside her crutches and was in bed, growing paler day by day. The father now came home every night, but Agnes was too weak to put her arms about his neck. One night this week he came home earlier than usual, but Agnes had died in the afternoon.

Kaiser Gives Yacht to Son.

BERLIN, Aug. 11.—Emperor William has given his American built yacht Meteor to the Crown Prince. It is expected that the Emperor's new yacht, to be built by the Herreshoffs at Bristol, R. I., will be ready in time for the Kiel races next June. The entire crew of this yacht will be German, instead of part German and part English, as is that of the Meteor.

Comforting the Widow.

Towne. "I'm sorry to hear about poor Jones being killed by lightning. How did he tell you how he cameled the widow?"
Browner. "No."
Towne. "He told her to cheer up; that lightning never strikes twice in the same place." Philadelphia Press.

Similarity.

"When Hasbroun was in politics his credit was good everywhere. Now he can't get trust at all."
"Reminds me of a clock!"
"In what way?"
"When he's run down and broken his clock stops."

MAN CLAIMS FORTUNE

ST. LOUIS, Ill., Aug. 11.—William S. Smith, 222 North Jefferson street, believes he is heir to a $200,000 fortune in Ireland. He reached this conclusion from a newspaper article that Lyman Smith was being sought by the administrators of a large estate, calling a claimant, and that Smith had been traced to this part of Illinois.

Mr. Smith said this morning: "Lyman Smith was my father. I think he must be the man referred to. His death occurred a good many years ago. He was born in Ohio, shortly after the arrival of both his parents in this country from Ireland. There were two sisters of my father who came over here with him, but I think both of them are dead. My father, when I was a boy, often spoke to me of the estate of relatives in the old country, but he never received anything from them that I know of."

"My mother died recently. As far as I know, there are only three of us left—myself and two sisters."

Mr. Smith is trying to get into communication with the attorney who is seeking the heirs.

All aboard! Post-Dispatch newsboys' attention! Washash special train will depart from Union Station at 8 o'clock Friday night. This special train will be used exclusively by Post-Dispatch newsboys and will run direct to the World's Fair Grounds.

Everybody has read of the great treat that has been prepared for the Post-Dispatch newsboys by the Naval Exhibition Company on the Pike.

The ships were never in finer trim; the decks were never cleared so completely and the guns never belched before as they will belch forth fire, flame and deafening noise Friday night in honor of the army of Post-Dispatch newsboys who will witness the Naval show that night.

All aboard for the Washash Special. Train starts from Union Station at 8 p. m., Friday. The special train returning, will leave World's Fair grounds at 11 o'clock.

Post-Dispatch newsboys will be supplied with tickets and badges. Each boy must secure a ticket and badge in order to be admitted.

The tickets will be distributed from the Post-Dispatch branch offices to the boys who get their papers from the respective branches.

The boys who get their papers at the main office will be supplied by "Tom." Every boy must have his ticket and badge. Do not lose them. Boys living west of Grand avenue may take direct car to the main entrance (Lindell avenue).

Boys who go direct to main entrance must be there at 8:30 p. m. to meet those who come to the grounds on the Washash special train.

The boys who wish to go on the Washash special must be present on the Twentieth street side of Union Station at 7:45 p. m.—no later—for the special train departs at 8 p. m. sharp.

Don't forget your tickets. Don't forget your badges. This following is a copy of the ticket and badge.

When the Post-Dispatch newsboys are all assembled at the main entrance they will fall in line and be led by a military band on a grand march through the Pike.

This parade of the newsboys will be an attraction in itself.

The public always "turns out" to see the Post-Dispatch newsboys every year when they are given their annual outing by their favorite newspaper.

The managers of the Naval show are preparing to give their guests a royal welcome.

TRANSIT LOAN WILL BE CUT

Original Sum of $20,000,000 in Excess of Needs—To Reduce to $12,500,000.

Announcement was made today that there will be a special meeting of the shareholders of the St. Louis Transit Co. Oct. 19, for the purpose of reducing the loan of $20,000,000 secured last year to $12,500,000. These bonds were issued by the St. Louis Transit Co. and guaranteed by the United Railways Co. to pay for the extraordinary expenditures made necessary by the preparation for the World's Fair and were taken by a syndicate of St. Louis and New York capitalists.

Officials of the company stated to the Post-Dispatch Thursday that they believed that the reduction of the loan of $20,000,000 to $12,500,000 would be in the interest of the shareholders of both the operating and leasing companies. It is stated that preliminary estimates have been found to be in excess of the financial needs of the company, hence the decreasing of the loan.

After all, George, I think a public wedding would do better amount of bonds. He: And give up the elopement? She: Yes. You see, papa has refused to lend us his automobile—so what's the use?

PLENTY OF WORK FOR DENEEN

Illinois Republican Candidate for Gov. error to Make Many Speeches— Fellow Candidates Not Spared.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 11.—The Republicans of Illinois are preparing to make the coming state campaign one of the most active they have ever conducted. Charles S. Deneen of Chicago, the nominee for governor, will endeavor to visit every county for at least one speech. Lawrence V. Sherman, the nominee for lieutenant-governor, has been given enough dates to keep him busy until the next before leaving for his home.

William H. Stead of Ottawa, candidate for attorney-general, will be booked to make a number of speeches over the entire state. James A. Rose, who was renominated for secretary of state, will fill many dates.

It is the announced purpose of W. Scott Cowan, who has charge of the speakers' bureau, to keep Mr. Deneen on the go continuously. Special trains, boats and overland conveyances will be utilized by the gubernatorial nominee. Deneen's opening speech will be delivered about Sept. 1, at some point in southern Illinois, to be determined later.

On Sept. 17 Deneen and Lawrence B. Strickland, Democratic candidate for governor, will attend the reunion of the Southern Illinois Soldiers' and Soldiers' Association at Duquoin, and make speeches.

Everybody Satisfied. "Mr. Scapen," said the Postmaster to a amateur violinist at an evening gathering, "you play the violin, do you not?" "Yes, after a fashion, you know," was the modest reply.

"How nice!" murmured half the company. "No, I did not." "How nice!" murmured the other half of the company in fervent union.

QUEER THINGS LOST AT WORLD'S FAIR

More Than One Hundred Missing Articles Are Reported to Jefferson Guards Every Day.

ONE WOMAN LOST HER TEETH

Another Drops Her Love Letters and Wouldn't Have Anybody Read Them for the World.

HERE'S AN AVERAGE LIST.

Set of harness.
Lave toy pool dog.
Set of false teeth.
Baby carriage.
One shoe.
Lunch box with two doughnuts.
Piece of pie and bottle of milk.
Roll of music tied to two ladies' slippers.
Dog collar.
Carpenter's rule, five feet long.
Parasols and umbrellas by the score.
Purses by the hundreds.
Railroad tickets.
World's Fair passes.
Package of love letters.
Spectacles and glasses.
Unabridged dictionary.
Jackets and shawls.

More than 100 lost articles, of which the above shows the variety, are reported to the office of the Lost and Found Department of the Jefferson Guards each day at the World's Fair.

There is often a touch of humor to the stories of how the articles were lost. The old lady that reported the loss of her teeth admitted that she had choked while eating her lunch and that the teeth had rolled down the bank and she feared they had fallen into the lagoon. "Do you think they would drag the lake for me?" she asked the guard in charge of that department.

The loser of the lost shoe had an equally strange tale to relate. He was evidently from the rural districts, and said that he had lost the shoe near a house. To be more comfortable he had removed one of his shoes. Then there was a fire, and without waiting for the shoe, he started to follow the engine. He had gone but a short distance when he missed his shoe.

"I have lost Biju. Have you seen him?" Biju is my toy spaniel, and he got away from me somewhere near the Philippine reservation. I hated to leave him home, so I tucked him under my wrap and had no trouble getting away. He was rather feisty, and when we got near the Philippines, he got loose and ran so fast I could not catch him. Do you think there is any chance of those horrid Igorrotes getting him?"

As no trace of Biju was found and the lady, who was most fashionably attired, did not return, the department supposed that he took the shortest cut home.

The young lady that lost the package of letters was nearly as broken. She said that they were from the man she was to marry soon, and that she did not have anyone read them for the world.

There is a fashion in losing things. Lost purses are by far the most popular. Fifty is a fair daily average reported lost, and the losses range from a few cents to several hundred dollars. Of the 25 articles lost and turned in to the office, there were 50 purses, fair average of the money they contained would be about $2.75.

Umbrellas and parasols losses depend entirely on the weather.

World's Fair passes, 15 jackets and wraps, 15 spectacles, 15 and railroad tickets, 10 are next on the list of articles found and turned in. From that the others range to a valuable gold watch to a telephone directory.

Each article brought to the office is carefully tagged and a record kept. Applicants must fully describe their missing articles and receipt for them when delivered.

PARADE OF 5000 SOLDIERS
On the Exposition grounds, Philippine day, Saturday, Aug. 12. This will be the largest U. S. military parade ever given in America.

BLACKHAND APPEARS AGAIN
Child of Wealthy Italian Merchant Kidnaped in Brooklyn and Held for Ransom.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Antonio Mannino, 9 years of age, the only child of a rich Italian contractor living in Brooklyn, has been kidnaped, evidently by a gang of Sicilians, who are holding him for ransom. Angelo Cucuzza, 18 years old, who is said to have done the actual work of spiriting the boy away, is under arrest. He admitted keeping the child in New York on the pretext of acting as an interpreter. He said they were met by a man who took them to a street car and rode to a tenement house, where he demanded his pay. The man kicked him out and kept Antonio.

Cucuzza, who worked for the Mannino a short time, said he could find the tenement, and accompanied by several policemen, he walked all over the lower end of Manhattan. Finally, he picked out the building, but no such persons as he described were to be found within.

A letter, scrawled in crude Italian, has reached the elder Mannino, warning him to keep away from the police, and stating that his son is all right.

Scores of Italian business men in Manhattan and Brooklyn recently have been receiving threatening letters and demands for large sums. Apparently the misdeeds emanate from an organized band of blackmailers who thus far have escaped detection.

BIG MISSOURI MINING DEAL.
Twenty Thousand Acres of Coal Land Sold for $800,000.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 11.—Higbee, Mo., Aug. 11.—The biggest coal land deal in the history of Missouri, and perhaps in the west, has just been consummated here. The land lies in one body, in Randolph County, extending nine miles east and west, and ranging from three to five miles north and south. It embraces 20,000 acres. The purchasers are New York and St. Louis capitalists, and the price paid was about $800,000.

The operators will incorporate under the name of the Randolph County Coal and Mining Company. The deal was consummated by W. E. Murlin, president of the Black Diamond Coal Company, of Beaver.

M. K. & T. Warns Operators.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
BEDALIA, Mo., Aug. 11.—Sept. N. J. Finney, of the M. K. & T., today issued a bulletin notifying the agents and operators who struck August 1 and whose names have not been filed on the division, that, unless they report for duty by noon Friday, August 12, they will not again be permitted to enter the service of the company. The same order, it is said, has been made applicable to the entire system.

MAIL FROM NEGRESS? NO SIR

Residents of Indiana's Banner Democratic Township Up in Arms Over Postmaster's Appointment.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
JASPER, Ind., Aug. 11.—The people of Ferdinand, a village of 200 population, are excited over the appointment of Miss Ida Hagen, a colored girl of Hunting, this county, as deputy postmaster.

Ferdinand township is the banner Democratic township of Indiana. Out of a total vote of 400 cast at the last election, only six were Republican.

It is an orderly German community where law suits are unknown, all differences, if any, being settled by arbitration. Nevertheless the people of which there is an indignation meeting and burning Postmaster Wallemann in effigy.

Wallemann was formerly a Democrat, but left the party in 1896 on the money question.

Weller Wants Court Dates Changed.
COLUMBIA, Mo., Aug. 11.—A. H. Weller, judge of the Ninth circuit, will have in mind to change the dates for holding court in the various counties of the district. The proposed change involves a change in the dates in every county and will be so arranged that there will be no court during the summer months. Under the new schedule court would be held in Columbia in September, January and May, instead of October, February and June as at present.

IOWA APPLES PROMISE WELL
Indications Are That the Yield This Year Will Be Satisfactory.

DES MOINES, Aug. 12.—Wesley Green, treasurer of the American Apple Growers' Congress, says: "The apple crop is in fair condition, better than last year at this time. The number of bearing trees is about 7,000,000. The increase for the year is about 10 per cent."

It is yet too early to give much of an opinion as to the final outcome of apples in Iowa. The general consensus of opinion is, however, that present conditions warrant a fair crop of late apples. Reports from Iowa are very favorable on early apples, of which there is a fairly good crop. Some Duchess apples are beginning to come in. They are fully as good as usual at this time, if not a little better.

Find Infant's Lunch.
Willie Malasky, a Post-Dispatch newsboy, found a small hand satchel in an Olive street car at Fourth and Locust streets Thursday morning, and as consequence the infant of some fond mother will run a chance of going hungry for a time at least, for the satchel contained a bottle of milk, a nursing bottle and a small alcohol stove. He brought the satchel to the Post-Dispatch office.

Third Member of Youthful Gang Found Guilty by Jury—Companions Admitted Crime.
CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—David Kelly, member of the "Boy Bandits" quartet, has been found guilty of complicity in the murder of John Lange, stage carpenter at the Illinois Theater, by a jury in Judge Chytrus' court, and he was sentenced to life imprisonment in the penitentiary.

James and William Fomby and Peter Dulfer already have been sentenced to life imprisonment for their part in the killing of Lange, they having been found guilty.

FEARED TO FACE THE COURT
George Torrey, a Promoter, Charged With Embezzlement, Ends Life.

WHO SAW MAN
WITHOUT A HAT
RUNNING AWAY?

Police Are Making Diligent Search,
With Slight Material, for Highwayman Who Killed a Private Watchman and Wounded Detective.

DRIVEN TO BAY IN YARD,
HIS AIM IN DARK DEADLY

Panama Hat Left Behind by Desper-ado in His Flight Contained Name
"R. Oard"—Suspect Held Because of Unsatisfactory Answers.

R. OARD.

A cheap Panama hat, bearing this name, is the best clue the police have in the search for the highwayman who last night killed a private watchman and wounded a detective, almost within the shadow of St. Francis Xavier's church, on Grand avenue.

Can you help the police?

The killing of John Mohr, private watchman, of 205 North Prairie avenue, and the wounding of James W. Lynch, city detective, of 323 Pine street, by a highwayman in a desperate backyard encounter at 3512
Pine street, at 11:30 o'clock last night, after an unsuccessful attempt to rob the detective, has aroused the police and detective departments to the greatest activity.

The city is being dragged for the mur-derer.

The one article left by the murderer in his flight, a Panama hat, is held by the police in the hope that it may lead to the arrest and conviction of the man.

On the sweatband of the hat, littered with a lead pencil, is the name "R. Oard." The sweatband is stamped in gilt letters with the words "Genuine Panama." There are no other stamps or marks of any kind in the hat, no imprint of maker or seller and nothing to indicate where it may have come from.

There is no such name as R. Oard in the St. Louis Directory. Detectives who were sent to the postoffice were told there that no one in St. Louis was receiving mail in that name.

Other detectives are visiting all the hat-makers and hat sellers in the city, trying to trace the hat.

The authorities believe that the hat indicates either that the highwayman was an amateur, or a thoroughbred crook would have his name in his hat, or that the hat was stolen and the crook did not trouble to erase the name.

WHO SAW HATLESS MAN?
Detectives are going carefully over that part of the city adjacent to the scene of the crime searching for persons who may have seen a hatless man. They reason that the man's lack of a hat as he was getting away from the neighborhood of the crime must have attracted the attention of somebody. By finding somebody who saw him they hope to get a better description of him and possibly to trace his course.

It was reported to the police Thursday morning that Detective Lynch had just parted with William Thompson, cashier of the Bank of America, at the corner of Grand and Pine streets, and that the robber had mistaken Lynch for Thompson and had fired at him. It was learned that Mr. Thompson is in Texas.

A man giving the name of Edward M.
O'Shields was arrested as a suspect at Second and Spruce streets early this morning. The police decline to say what charges they have for suspecting the man, except that he could not give a satisfactory account of himself.

The description of the highwayman furnished to the police by Lynch is as follows: Five feet 10 inches high, weight 140 pounds, about 35 years old, light complexion and mustache and wearing dark suit.

The names of witnesses furnished to the coroner are: William Longman of 3512
Pine street, E. W. Ewing, Jr. of 3517 Pine street, T. E. Wilson of 3511 Pine street,
B. T. Murphy of 3513 Pine street, and W.
M. Stevenson of 3515 Pine street. All were attracted to the scene of the crime by the shots.

The locality where the crime was committed is closely built up with handsome residences. It is just east of the corner of Grand and Pine streets, and is bounded by Grand and Lindell boulevards where stands St. Francis Xavier's church.

DEATH BATTLE IN DARK FOLLOWS CHASE AFTER DETECTIVE'S ASSAULT.

The killing of Mohr and the wounding of Lynch were done while the highwayman was cornered in a small back yard, fighting with murderous desperation.
Standing in the darkness of the back yard he fired at the detective, on his way to his home at 3512 Pine street. It was about 11:30 o'clock. He uttered a muffled cry when he was struck in the head by a bullet from the revolver which he had clutched in his right hand.

The fact that Lynch wore a stiff straw hat saved him from a severe scalp wound. If not for a fractured skull, the hat broke the force of the blow, but he was forced down over his left ear, knocking the ear severely.

Lynch was fazed for a second, but he

Killed, Detective Wounded and the Highwayman's HatGEN. BILLY RYDER, FAIR COMMISSIONER

If You Don't Believe It, He Has the Documents to Show for It.

After an absence of several months, during which he held for the first time in a quarter of a century to attend the Missouri Democratic state convention, "General" Billy Ryder has returned to St. Louis with a certificate appointing him a World's Fair commissioner from Montgomery county, Arkansas, and a large photograph showing a Sunday school class of the Hellen Gould Mission, which he superintends.

The certificate is faded and worn from being folded in General Ryder's pocket, but it bears the signature of Governor Jefferson Davis and states that W. D. Ryder is a regularly appointed commissioner.

General Ryder's "Blood Springs" are located in Montgomery county, and so are Spring Springs. The Helen Gould Mission is at this point. The photograph shows General Ryder in a group of about 100 persons, a number of barefooted children in the foreground and their parents in the rear.

"They didn't know why I stayed away from the convention," General Ryder said.
"But the reason is, I'm through with politics. I engaged in Christian work instead. I started in the Spring of 1903 and I have kept it up successfully in Arkansas. Thomas McPherson of St.
Louis was the man who got me started."

"I'm going to be an exhibitor at the fair now, too. I am going to have a display of mineral water from Blood Springs."

PACKERS TALK CONFIDENTLY

Managers of East Side Plants Declare
They Have Nearly All the Men They Want.

Managers of the East St. Louis packing houses say that by Monday or Tuesday next their plants will be running as they did before the union men walked out.

"Our force is complete now," said
Manager Thom of Swift's Thursday morning. "We will hire no additional men. We are killing today more than 100 per cent of the usual amount of hogs, about 75 per cent of the usual amount of cattle, about 80 per cent of sheep, and 100 per cent of work is being done in all other departments."

R. E. Conway, manager of Armour's, said: "We are killing more than the usual amount of cattle right now. We will kill 700 head today. We are about 100 per cent of the usual amount of hogs, 40 per cent of sheep and 40 calves. By the first of next week we will have our force complete and our plant running as well as formerly. We still need a few skilled workmen in some of the departments."

The receipts at the National stock yards Thursday morning were: 4900 cattle, 5000 hogs, 4000 sheep.
The stock raisers have nothing to say except that they do not believe that the plants are running as well as that managers assert.

There are policemen at each packing house, and some of them are kept busy preventing the importation of negro workmen from "shooting crabs."

Deputy Sheriff Seized Man Who Was

MET AT UNION STATION

County Officer Believes Affable Man Had an Understanding With Another to Meet Him.

J. M. Alsip, a farmer living near Corbin, Ky., is in Clayton awaiting the preliminary hearing of W. B. Mitchell, who was arrested while with Alsip at Creve
Coeur Lake Wednesday, by Deputy Sheriff Bellairs of St. Louis County. Mitchell is in jail.

Alsip says that at the time of the arrest he and Mitchell had just left the Creve Coeur Lake car and were starting for the woods. Bellairs approached and arrested Mitchell. Alsip accompanied them back to Clayton.

"I reached St. Louis from Kentucky Wednesday morning," said Alsip Thursday.
"I was on my way to Denver. After making arrangements for my ticket, I left the station, and at the corner of Eighteenth and Market streets a man approached and asked me where I was from."

"I told him I was from Kentucky and was going to Denver."

"That so?" he said. "I'm going to Denver, too."

"We started talking and I gave him some peanuts out a sack I was buying when he had approached me. He seemed very friendly and after a little while he began talking about Denver again."

"My going to Denver depends on a friend," he said. "If my friend can go now, all three of us can leave tonight and go together."

Told Beatities
of Creve Coeur.

"Then he said, 'Did you ever hear of Creve Coeur lake?'"

"I told him I hadn't."

"Then he started talking about going to Denver again."

"If I had just seen my friend I believe he'd go with us," the man said.
"I can find him either at the World's Fair or at Creve Coeur lake. Suppose we take a ride out to Creve Coeur and see."

"How far is it?" he asked.

"About four miles," he said.

"While we were walking on Eighteenth street towards Olive he said:
'There's a diving lady out at Creve Coeur lake you ought to see. She's a beauty.'"

Then he told me some more about the attractions at the lake, and I agreed to go."

"On the way out the man kept talking about Colorado and Creve Coeur. He was so entertaining I didn't notice how far it was. We reached Creve Coeur about 1 o'clock in the afternoon. As we left the car he started walking over towards the woods."

"I was sure suspicious, but I didn't say anything. The rest of the crowd was going in another direction from the one we took, and I decided to look out for anything that seemed unusual."

"We had gone about 50 feet from the car
when the county sheriff came up and arrested the man."

Deputy Sheriff Bellairs says he was attracted by the appearance of Mitchell and Alsip in Delmar garden about noon Wednesday. He knew neither of them, he says, but when he saw a peculiarly keen eye and a thin, pale face, he became suspicious. The third man, Bellairs says, has been seen, and thinks his work is that of a story for confidence games.

The third man, Bellairs did not speak, but soon after Bellairs saw them looking at each other, he saw the third man take a car for Creve Coeur.

Mitchell and Alsip boarded the next, and Bellairs also got on the same car.
Just as he got off the Creve Coeur car, Bellairs says he saw the other man trying to catch Mitchell's attention, but he did not succeed in doing so. Bellairs then arrested Mitchell, but could not get the other man.

Mitchell says that he worked in St. Louis until May, when he went to Kansas City. He returned to St. Louis two days ago, he says. He says he has been stationing three years on Olive street, but did not know the number of the house.

"He expected to leave for Denver soon,"
he told the police, and when Alsip mentioned his destination, he also spoke of his intention.

"When asked how he expected to get to Denver, in view of the fact that the officer who searched him after his arrest found no money on his person, Mitchell said he would remain in Clayton until a diposition of Mitchell's case is made. He says that during the time he spent with Mitchell and Alsip, he did not see any money, and he did not exhibit $100 which he had with him, all the money he has."

A thorough canvass is being made of every one of the 114 counties in the state.

It is probable the Republican campaign will be opened at Kansas City Sept. 3.

JUST WANTED THE PRISONER

Accommodating Friend of Sheriff Was Just Going Down and Would Take the Man Along.

J. F. Franklin, sheriff of Pemiscot county,
Mo., has an incident at the Four Courts
judging by an incident at the Four Courts Wednesday night, when a friend of the sheriff called and asked that Charles Austin, convicted of murder in Pemiscot county, be turned over to him as an accommodation to the sheriff, who was too busy taking prisoners to Jefferson City and had no time to come to St. Louis and take Austin home for trial.

"Austin was recently convicted of the murder of Carrie Johnson in Pemiscot county three years ago, and was sentenced to be hanged and was brought to St. Louis for safe keeping. Meanwhile the Supreme Court remanded the case, and the new trial was set to begin Thursday of this week."

John McFarland, who said he was tax collector of Pemiscot county and a friend of Sheriff Franklin, called for the prisoner, explaining that the sheriff was too busy to come.

"Are you a deputy sheriff?" Jailer Dawson asked.

"No, but I am a county officer,"
he said. "I was just going down and volunteered to take him."

McFarland was informed that the jailer did not care to take any such chances.

GEORGE GRAHAM VEST.

A man.
Who stood above the multitude
And saw
No ill to fear,
No cause to shrink.
A man.
With courage first imbued,
Whose law,
Than life more dear—
The truth to serve and think.

For him
No stars of hope,
Tho' black the night
And cheer,
Were dim
That others need not grope
In shadowed ways of fright,
He slew their fear.

Not death his soul could keep
From leadership supreme,
Of men,
In peace or strife.
His spirit will not sleep
Until his dream
Shall turn again
To substance and to life.

Brave pioneer!
Of regions unexplored.
His voice a song of cheer,
Or yet a sword.
Out where he led the way
To liberty;
His soul shines forth today
In immortality.

—GEORGE E. BOWEN.

"CAN'T DEFEND COOK AND ALLEN"

Editor Jewett, an Original Folk Man, Says Democrats Are Silenced
by Ticket.

W. O. L. Jewett, editor of the Shelby Democrat and one of the original supporters of Circuit Attorney Joseph W. Folk for the gubernatorial nomination, was a caller at Democratic state headquarters Thursday morning.

In an interview with the Post-Dispatch,
Mr. Jewett said that the renomination of Secretary of State Sam R. Cook and Auditor Albert O. Allen was a serious mistake, and cited the circumstances leading to their endorsement by the Shelby County convention as evidence that they are not the choice of the Democrats of his community.

"In the primary held in Shelby county to vote upon the candidates for county offices the names of all the gubernatorial candidates, with the exception of Judge Cook and Allen, were placed on the ticket," said Mr. Jewett.

"We paid no attention to the candidates for minor offices, but supposed these candidates would be elected over the heads of the ticket."

"Mr. Folk received a tremendous majority of the vote, and the county convention met May 3
many of Mr. Folk's friends were not present and a representative of the machine announced a resolution electing the county officers to record for Cook and Allen."

"The resolution was carried, and in no sense did the resolution represent the will of the body of Shelby voters."

"What is the sentiment in Shelby County at the present time?" Mr. Jewett was asked.
"Well, so far as I can learn," he answered, "the sentiment is that the Democrats are not to be trusted. They have intended to vote the Democratic ticket have backed, and now they will line up with their own party."

"A number of Democrats say they will scratch the names of Cook and Allen. We cannot defend the records of either. We must simply maintain silence when the Republicans attack Cook and Allen."

CLEMENTS OR BROCKMEYER
FOR THE SECRETARYSHIP.

Dr. E. B. Clements of Macon has been offered the secretaryship of the Republican state convention, and is according to the statement of a close friend, to the Post-Dispatch Thursday.

Dr. Clements was a candidate for state chairman, but the action of the St. Joe convention in leaving the selection of a state chairman to the action of the committee virtually defeated him for the place.

It is understood the tender of the secretaryship was made by State Chairman, Dr. E. B. Clements, who is now in New York.

If Dr. Clements should decline to serve it is understood Eugene Brockmeyer, editor of the Missouri State Republican, will be asked to accept the position.

The Republican leaders say they intend to have a thick coating of white paint on the Republican ticket. Among the Republican leaders who are expected to enlist in the effort to elect Cyrus P.
Walbridge governor are: Warren, Burbank and Fowler of Ohio.

A thorough canvass is being made of every one of the 114 counties in the state.

It is probable the Republican campaign will be opened at Kansas City

FRIENDS TAKE
LAST LOOK AT
SENATOR VEST

Body of the Dead Statesman Reaches Union Station, Where Many of His Former Friends Pay Their Final Tributes.

THOUSAND BARED THEIR HEADS AS CASKET PASSED

Party of Two Hundred Relatives and Intimate Friends Accompanied the Body to Its Final Resting Place in Bellefontaine.

With the simplest of ceremony the body of the late Senator George Graham Vest was consigned to the earth at Bellefon-taine cemetery shortly before noon Thursday. In the presence of the sorrowing family and other relatives and a distinguished gathering of the personal friends and official associates of the deceased.

When the funeral procession had finished the long journey from Union Station and the mourners had gathered about the grave and the casket was ready to be lowered to its resting place, a short prayer was offered by Rev. J. C. Shackelford, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Sweet Springs. The casket was then lowered and the grave filled and the mourners returned to the city.

The body of the late Senator Vest arrived in St. Louis at 7 o'clock Thursday morning. The Missouri, Kansas & Texas train, which bore it from Sweet Springs was backed in on track
No. 14. The private car of Vice-President
A. A. Allen, which had been placed at the disposal of the family for the trip, was at the rear of the train, bringing the car nearest to the midway.

The coffin, covered with black cloth with metallic trimmings, was in the center of the observation compartment of the car.
Upon it there was a stand of flowers, the expression of the grief and sympathy of the citizens of Sweet Springs.

Other flowers were placed about the compartment, for although there had been a request that no flowers be sent, friends of the deceased had disregarded it.

In the car, accompanying the body on the trip, were Mrs. Vest, Alexander L.
Vest, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. George F. R. Jackson, son-in-law and daughter of the deceased; Mrs. J. C. Thompson, Lee Montgomery, P. L. Dewees, Miss Mildred Dewees and C. L. Jackson.

Directly after the arrival of the train members of the party went to breakfast, but returned as soon as possible. Half an hour after the arrival St. Louis friends of the dead senator began to reach the station to take a last look at his features and pay their respects and express their sympathy. Among the first to arrive were James Bannerman and R. D. Lancaster.

At 8 o'clock, a detail of police arrived and took up a position at the end of the car nearest the midway.

Many Paid
Last Tribute.

During the ensuing hour, leading men of St. Louis were constantly arriving, and in groups of four and five, were entering the car and viewing the features of the dead statesman. The casket was not closed until just before the departure for the cemetery.

At a little after 9 o'clock the casket was taken from the car and carried through the midway to the Twentieth street entrance. There it was placed in a hearse and the funeral party of about 20 entered carriages. A crowd of a thousand persons gathered about the Twentieth street entrance to the midway, as well as the travelers in the midway, uncovered their heads
as the casket was borne past.

The electric cars on Market street came to a standstill and did not attempt to go forward until the funeral procession had passed.

The procession moved west on Market street and turned northward on its way to Bellefontaine cemetery, where the final services were held.

Officials in Funeral Party.

In the funeral party were Gov. Dockery and other state officials, Mayor Wells and other city officials, President Francis and Stowe, members of the city council and house of delegates, and among other citi-

OUT OF THE MOUTHS OF BABES

From the Chicago News.

Mamma: Do you know what a greedy boy is, Tommy?

Tommy: Yes, mamma. Johnny is a greedy boy, 'cause he wants everything I want.

"Mamma," asked small Elsie shortly after her new brother arrived, "what is baby's name?"

"He hasn't any name, dear," was the reply.

"Then," continued the little inquisitor, "how did he know he belonged here?"

Teacher: Now, Freddy, can you tell me how many seasons there are?

Freddy: Yes, ma'am. Two.

Teacher: Only two? Well, name them.

Freddy: The baseball season and the football season.

"If my little brother ever gets lost we can easily find him," said small Nellie.

"How, pray?" inquired the visitor.

"He's got a strawberry trade-mark on his arm," explained Nellie.

The sky suddenly became black and there was considerable thunder, but finally the clouds drifted away, and there was no rain.

"Mamma," said 5-year-old Harold, who had been frightened by the thunder, "God made a lot of noise that time, but there was nothin' doin'."

Willie: Say, you missed the fun last night. We had a fire at our house.

Harry: Was anybody hurt?

Willie: Nobody but sister's beau. Pa fired him.

Little Leonard lived with his father and mother in a large house. His father sold the house and put up a flat building on an adjoining lot. When the family moved into the new home Leonard ran across the street, exclaiming to a neighbor, "Oh, Mrs. Blake, we don't live in the big house any more. We live next door to ourselves."

A FATAL ERROR

A man steps into your office, draws up his chair, and talks right into your face. His breath is offensive. Your only thought is how to get rid of him and his business. You cut him short with, "I am not interested."

SOZODONT

Is essential to one whose breath is not pure and sweet. Penetrating the little crevices, it deodorizes, sweetens and purifies them, and makes you feel genteel and clean-cut.

THE CLUBWOMAN'S VIEWS

By THE SOCIETY GIRL

THE paper says," said the Society Girl, "that two of the automobiles coming to St. Louis burned."

"Is that so?" said the Club Woman.

"I've often heard of them scorching. But that reminds me: You know I told you some time ago that this World's Fair was teaching me lots of things—the visitors, I mean. Well, the other day I met a family at the Fair that I had known several years ago, and I asked them to call that evening. They said they would if they could; they were stopping with some friends and didn't know whether they could get away; but they would be sure to come if they could. Of course, that wasn't very definite, but what could I do?"

"Well, when I got home Mr. Brown wanted me to go down to see Belasco's play. I've been just crazy to see Miss Bates. But I told him maybe we would have callers; and when I said 'maybe' I had to tell him all about it. And he said—but I forgot, my dear; you're not married yet. Well, then, he said, 'I'll go with you, and when nobody came he jammed his hat on and started out. I asked him where he was going. He said he was going to look the man of that family up in Bradstreet's, to see if it was worth while suing him for damages for an evening lost."

"But Mr. Brown doesn't stay in a bad humor long. When I said that people who made those vague, conditional engagements were selfish, and I thought they should have too much self-respect to do it, he went right to his defense. He said the man who guarded his self-respect was selfish, too."

"How is that?" asked the Society Girl.

"Because he knows he has to live with himself all his life, and wants a comfortable companion."

"But why," asked the Society Girl, "did automobiles remind you of friends who make vague engagements?"

"One would like them so much better," said the Club Woman, "if one could be sure of them."

SWITCHES STAND OPEN TO ZIEGLER

Second Train Carrying Miners Into Leiter's Stockade Did Not Stop Where Strikers Gathered.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
PICKENYVILLE, Ill., Aug. 11.—Another carload of miners for Ziegler passed through here last night. The switches here were turned and the train went through without stopping. It was the second train of the day, the first passing through during the afternoon.

A large crowd of miners were here when the train went through, but no interference was attempted either here or at Duquoin. Indications are now that Leiter will get enough recruits into the stockade to operate his mine, but the strike leaders insist they will not stay.

It is said the men will refuse to work where they are not permitted to make a garden or own domestic animals, or where they are not permitted to own more than their household goods.

The union officials are elated over conditions. The contest has been, and will be, they say, without bloodshed. They point to the fact, which has been verified, that more than 50 per cent of the men who have gone into Ziegler have quit, and from those who have come out they learn that not a man, unless it be a guard, will remain longer than to get a stake.

A report that Ziegler yesterday soon after the arrival of Leiter with the first train of miners that the place was to be blown up last night, is said to have caused hurried preparations for additional guards. Extra precautions were taken to keep strangers away from the stockade.

DONNELLY DOESN'T HOPE FOR PEACE

Strike Leader Thinks Packers Would Not Agree to Terms Upon Which He Would Insist.

CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—President Michael Donnelly, of the Butchers' Union, today said he had little faith in the retailers' peace negotiations to settle the packing house strike.

"It looks to me as though this is only the beginning of the fight," he said.

"I will not stand now for the first agreement. A matter is now beyond me. The allied trades conference board will have to approve of any terms offered."

"I do not think the packers will agree to terms that I would insist on now, and, of course, the strike cannot be settled unless terms are satisfactory to all the unions in the allied trades."

Not in a long time has there been so much apprehension of loss among shippers and commission men as there was in the yards today. The live stock receipts today consisting of 8,000 cattle, 2,000 hogs and 2,000 sheep, and to this was added more than half of yesterday's receipts. There was little buying yesterday and less today, and as a result, prices fell there. This was largely due to the shutting down of big Eastern plants, which bought heavily in this market.

Edouard Stewart, representing the United States Department of Commerce and Labor, visited President Donnelly today and had a conference with the strike leader. Mr. Stewart has been in the city several days studying the strike situation in conjunction with United States Special Agent A. Carroll. During the life of Senator Hanna, Mr. Stewart was active in the interests of the National Civic Federation. This fact gave rise to a theory that the federation is becoming interested in the stock yards situation.

At the Diesel plant of the American Can Co., it was declared today that the management had agreed not to furnish any cuts to the packers. By this means the calling of a strike at the plant will be averted. Should a strike of the can workers' union be called, it would affect the can workers in the three plants of the American Can Co. President Norton of the American Can Co. has been informed of the situation and is to make an investigation.

The officials of the company say that they have a large number of orders from the big packers and that a great part of the goods is ready for delivery.

This Testimony

Will surely interest many readers of this paper.

James G. Gray, Gibson, Mo., writes about Drake's Palmetto Wine as follows: "I live in the town of Moberly in Dunklin County and have been sick with Malaria fever for fifteen months, a walking skeleton. One bottle of Drake's Palmetto Wine has done me more good than all the medicine I have taken in that fifteen months. I am buying two more bottles to cure. Drake's Palmetto Wine is the best medicine and tonic for Malaria, Kidney and Liver ailments I ever heard of. I feel well now after using one bottle."

A. A. Felling, Knoxville, Tenn., writes: "I had a bad case of four stomach and indigestion. I could eat no little that I was 'falling to bones' and could not sleep nor attend to my business. I used the trial bottle and two large seventy-cent bottles and can truthfully say I am entirely cured. I have advised many to write for a free trial bottle."

W. Moore, Monticello, Minn., makes the following statement about himself and a neighbor, Bearys: "Four bottles of Drake's Palmetto Wine has cured me of catarrh of bladder, kidney trouble. I suffered ten years and spent hundreds of dollars with best doctors and specialists without benefit. Drake's Palmetto Wine has made me a well man. A young woman here was given up to die by a Minneapolis specialist and he and our local doctor said they could do no more for her. She has been taking Drake's Palmetto Wine one week and is rapidly recovering."

The Drake Formula Company, Drake Bldg., Chicago, Ill., will send a trial bottle of Drake's Palmetto Wine free and prepaid to any reader of this paper. A letter or postal card is your only expense to get this free bottle.

RAILROAD FIGHTS TROLLEY.

Chicago & Alton Sends Wrecking Crew to Prevent Crossing.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Aug. 11.—The Chicago & Alton wrecking crew and train has gone to Carlinville, not to pick up a wreck, but to place an obstruction to protect its line. The interurban track layers at Springfield & St. Louis interurban line is trying to effect a crossing.

The crew will place a number of heavy car trucks near the tracks to defeat the idea. The interurban track layers stole a crossing over the C. & A. tracks between Carlinville and Springfield and the railroad does not expect to be caught napping again.

Better Hurry!

Have you seen the Exposition?
Better hurry!
Get a move on, 'stead of wishin'.
Better hurry!
If you want to see this show—
Greatest ever built, you know—
Drop your work at once and go.
Better hurry!

Half the season's gone already.
Better hurry!
Fame is growing, strong and steady.
Better hurry!
Marvels at your very door.
Such as men never saw before,
Keep on calling evermore.
Better hurry!

If you seek for information,
Better hurry!
If you pine for inspiration,
Better hurry!
If you want to soak it in Till it fairly fills your skin,
Now's the time, sir, to begin.
Better hurry!

It will be too late when snow flies.
Better hurry!
Tinge, remember—never slow—flies.
Better hurry!
If the shame yourself you'd spare
Of admitting, if you dare,
"No, I never saw the Fair."
Better hurry!

It Made No Difference.

When Patrolman Thomas McCormack, who guards the banks around Fourth and Olive streets, had his regular "two days off" recently, he decided to go on a fishing trip with some friends of his who belong to a rowing club. Charlie Quinn, down on Olive street, volunteered to fix up a lunch for McCormack.

Such fried chicken! How a Methodist preacher during conference week would have reveled in it!

But McCormack is not a Methodist.

Some one spied the chicken and noted the day of the week.

"Why, Tom," he said, "you don't eat meat on Friday, do you?"

McCormack was puzzled for a minute.

"Oh, well," he said, "that won't make any difference. We'll be outside the city limits."

Uncle Won't Accept It.

Consistency may be a jewel,
But you can't hook it. Ain't that cruel?

In St. Louis County, they are talking about taking a franchise away from a railroad company because it failed to keep its agreement with the public. It is to laugh. Ha, ha! Thus.

President Roosevelt will be grieved to learn that those triplets of which a St. Louis man is grandfather were born in Nicaragua.

What has become of all the founding babies they used to send to St. Ann's Asylum twenty-five years ago today in St. Louis?

Why should the eight-hour law be declared unconstitutional, when sixteen hours of rest is so constitutionally agreeable?

The mammoth pipe organ at the Fair seems to have gone the way of the airship contests.

August 24 will be Butler day at the Fair. And Polk day?

"If my little brother ever gets lost we can easily find him," said small Nellie.

"How, pray?" queried the visitor.

"He's got a strawberry trade-mark on his arm," explained Nellie.

Snide Lights on History.

Capt. Kidd had just found the buried treasure.

"Any gold?" asked Sir Francis Drake.

"Heaps," answered the dauntless pirate.

"There's almost enough to buy a cut of roast beef."

And purchasing another extra, he saw that the strike was still on.

Jacob was wooing Rachel.

"I want your daughter," he was saying

to Lahan. "Have I your consent?"

"Sure," answered Lahan; "but how about Dowie's?"

Later, however, the difficulty was surmounted.

Mary had a little lamb.

"It cost me 50 cents for a half portion," she said, "or I'd have had more."

And she ordered mint sauce.—Chicago Journal.
